Some War Poetry on Both Sides.

FOR THE BUSSIANS. Cleveland Coxe, Bishop of the Western Diocese New York, in the Baffalo Commercial Advertiser.

Trump of the Lord-I hear it blow ! Forward the Cross; the world shall know Jehovah's arm's against the foe, Down shall the cursed Crescent go ! To arms-to arms.

God help the Russ ! God biess the Czar ! Shame on the swords that trade can mar ! Shame on the laggards, faint and far, That rise not to the holy war.

To arms-to arms ! The Cross our Star. How long, O Lord-for Thou art just; Vengeance is thine-in Thee we trust; Wake, arm of God, and dash to dust Those hordes of rapine and of lust. To arms-to arms !

Wake swords that rust. Forward the Cross ! Break clouds of ire ! Break with the thunder and the fire ! To new Crusnders let Paith Inspire ; Down with the Crescent to the mire ! To arms-to arms.

To vengeance dire? AGAINST BOTH. A Newspaper Heretic (W. A. Croffut) in the Graphic. Thou man of God, who thus implore Thy brother's sacred blood to pour In hateful tides of turbid gore From Dardanelles to Danube's shore,

Be still-be still ! Blaspeme no more ! God help the babies ! God bless the wives ! Shame on the priests that whet the knives ! Shame on the church whose altar thrives By wrecking peaceful peasants' lives ! Be still-be still!

'Tis Hell that drives! How long, O Lord, before thy shrine Shall men pray," Vengeance, God is Thine," Then worship Moloch as divine, And drink the battle's bloody wine? Be still-be still O, heart of mine!

Come Holy Peace! May Muscovite And Moslem end their wretched fight; Women with songs shall hail the light, And children flock with flags of white-Be still—be still— O, sacred sight!

VARIETY.

Mr. Carlyle says that young men should be shut up in barrels and kept somewhere out of sight until they have passed their twenty-fifth year, because it is about this time that they attain to their maximum of detestability." An Irish coachman, driving past some harvest fields during the summer, addressing a smart girl engaged in shearing, exclaimed, " Arrah, my darling, I wish I was in jail for stealing ye.' "Remember whom you are talking to, sir," said an indignant parent to a facetious boy; "1 am your father." "Well, who's to blame for that?" said the young impertinence; "tain't

I have myself a cough that worries me a good deal after banking nours, and to-day I forgot to take 15 cents with me when I closed the vault."—New Orleans Re-

An Iowa orator said : "I have heard that some persons hold the opinion that, just at the precise moment after one human being dies, another is born, and the soul enters and animates the new born babe. Now, I have made particular and extensive inquires concerning my opponent, and I find that for some hours before he drew breath nobody died. Fellow citizens, I will leave you to draw

Near Rattray street she dropped a little red bow with a gold pin attached, and it fluttered to the edge of the sidewalk. She stopped and looked at it. It might as well have fluttered to the edge of the universe and dropped over for anyaround it two or three times, gazed sadly at it, and then walked a block to High street, got a small boy, and paid him two pence to come back and pick up that bow. As the boy rejoined his companions he remarked : "Darned if ever I a woman so proud. She wouldn't pick up her own things on the sidewalk." But it wasn't

A HOPELESS CASE. - A gentleman on Sheldonst. thought of having a telephone put into his house, so as to enable him to hold sweet converse with his business partner, but his aged mother rotested against it earnestly. "Robert," she aid, "if you bring one of those dreadful things in here I'll never close my eyes for fear it may break out and sweep us into eternity, and us not a bit the wiser." He tried to persuade her that it was an innocuous instrument, but she said, "No, no; look at the thousands and millions of poor Hindoos it killed last Fall." was a typhoon: 'that wasn't a telephone—that was a typhoon: 'but the old lady lowered her Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands. INFLUENCE OF GREENBACKS.—He looked like a man who might have had fifteen cents last fall, but who had used the last of it weeks ago. When he sat down in the restaurant the waiters paid no heed to him, and he rapped several times before a colored man slid that way. "I want fried oysters," said the man, as he looked over the bill of fare. "Dey is jist out, fried oysters is," replied the waiter. " Bring me a chicken, then."

" Dere isn't a chicken in de place." " Got any venison?" inquired the man.

" Not an inch, sah." " Any ham and eggs?"

" No, sah." "See here," said the man, getting vexed, "I want a square meal. I've got the ducats right here, and I can pay for my dinner and buy your
